- 5.4 A Government servant is expected to maintain a reasonable and decent standard of conduct and not bring discredit to his service by his misdemeanour.
- 5.5 Thus neglect by a Government servant of his wife and his children in a manner unbecoming of a Government servant, may be regarded as a good and sufficient reason to justify action being taken against him.
- 5.6 If the Government were to sit back and permit its officials to commit any outrage in their Private Life, provided it falls short of criminal offence, the result may very well be catastrophic fall in the moral prestige of the Administration.
- 5.7 The State could demand a certain standard of conduct from the Government servant not only while performing their official duties but in their private life as well.
- 5.8. Arguments are often raised to the effect that in view of the complexities of modern life, the consideration of expediency should outweigh the considerations of Honesty. Consideration of expediency may be irresistible at times but their evils are merely to be put up with and not to be extolled or prescribed as standards of life and work.
- 5.9 A Public Officer is not at liberty to amass fortune by taking illegal gratification even though willingly given.

- 6.4 Unbecoming of a Government servant is unmannerly attitude, insubordination, lack of decorum, laziness, corrupt habits, shirking of responsibility and other things which are normally branded as unworthy of a Government servant.
- 6.5 The dictionary meaning of misconduct is given as bad management, mismanagement, culpable neglect of an official in regard to his office. It is a transgression of some established and definite law or a forbidden act. It implies a wrongful intention and not a mere error of judgement. Misconduct is something more than mere negligence. It is the intentional doing of something when the doer knows to be wrong or which he doer recklessly, not caring what the result may be. It is a sufficiently wide expression and covers any conduct which in any way renders a person unfit for his office or is likely to tamper or embarrass the administration. In this sense, grossly improper or unbecoming conduct in public life may also become misconduct and may render an officer liable to disciplinary action.

- 6.6 Moral is concerned with right and wrong or duty which one owes to one's fellow beings or to the society in general.
- 6.6.1 Moral turpitude is a reprehensible Act contrary to the accepted notions of right and customary rule or code of conduct accepted by the society. It would mean anything done contrary to justice, honesty, modesty or good morals.
